Welcome Back, Old Friends

Reacting to public and political outcry, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) has decided to place both the Norway Maple and the Burning Bush on their regulated list, not their prohibited list. This means that all cultivars stemming from these plants CAN be sold in New York State so long as the customer understands they can be invasive in habit. All purchases come with this lovely disclaimer: “Invasive Species-Harmful to the Environment.” All the regulated plants on the list are as follows:

- Acer platanoides (Norway Maple)
- Clematis terniflora (Japanese Virgin’s Bower)
- Euonymous alatus (Burning Bush)
- Euonymous fortune (Winter Creeper)
- Miscanthus sinensis (Chinese Silver Grass)
- Robinia pseudoacacia (Black Locust)

Unfortunately, the Japanese barberry (Berberis thunbergii) did not survive the vetting process and has been placed on the prohibited list. Starting this year, neither can we grow nor sell, nor can you purchase any cultivar of barberry in New York State. To them we must say farewell. Cultivars of the barberry include:

- Rose Glow Barberry
- Compact Crimson Pygmy Barberry
- Golden Rocket Barberry
- Bonanza Gold Barberry
- Royal Burgundy Barberry
- Golden Ruby Barberry
- Admiration Barberry

For further information go to:
www.dec.ny.gov/docs/lands_forests_pdf/isprohibitedplants2.pdf

The link will take you to a comprehensive color picture list of all regulated and prohibited plants in New York State. This is a good resource to inform you of other really nasty plants out there, like Giant Hogweed (Heracleum mantegazzianum), whose sap can cause blisters, long lasting scars, and even blindness!

PROFESSIONAL LANDSCAPE DESIGN & INSTALLATION SERVICE

W&W Nursery offers three landscape design service options:
• Professional Landscape Design and Installation Services
• Snapshop Design Services
• Design Consultation Services

Professional Landscape Design and Installation Services:
Landscaping: "The art of expressing a thought with plants"
- Ken Williams, founder
W&W Nursery, Street Smart Gardener (S.S.G.)

If you were selecting an artist to paint your portrait you certainly wouldn't use "low bid" as your only criteria. Past work, quality, artistic flair, and creativity would all figure into your decision. Likewise, we believe choosing the right landscape contractor should involve experience with past projects, quality work, and creative flair. At W&W we start with considering your thoughts and needs, creating a 'one of a kind' design, locally grown top quality plants, professional nurserymen technique, finishing with plenty of good planting soil and our 100% service guarantee.

Our design team can assist you with plant selection and layouts to meet your needs. We provide both overhead plot plans and state of the art “photo computer imaged design”, showing you tomorrow .... today! We can assist with both residential and commercial applications. An appointment that is convenient to you and W&W is necessary. We are generally available most days, except Saturday and Sunday. Advanced booking is recommended.

Design rates are $50.00 per hour. The average family home normally costs approximately $200 - $300 and is not deductible from the materials or installation fees. Design fees are due when they are viewed at the nursery. Designs must be paid for in full in order to leave the nursery. Photorealistic imagery designs are available for $125.00 first page, additional pages $75.00. Landscape Installation Costs: W&W requires a $500.00 minimum. Landscape design charges are based on size and type of plant, soil preparation, choice of mulch, hardscapes, and type of lawn installation. All plant materials meet or exceed A.N.L.A. (American Nursery and Landscape Association) standards. Due to the high volume of scheduled installation projects, and in order to complete your design in a timely manner, W&W Nursery may assist you in selecting an approved landscape contractor for installation. All landscape contractors are certified by W&W and have the W&W certified logo.

DESIGN CONSULTATION SERVICES

Choosing the “right plant for the right place” is an important consideration for all types of landscaping. Ignoring this guideline may lead to increased maintenance, a failure of plants to thrive, and sometimes the death of installed plant material. Let W&W Nursery help you. For only $50 per hour ($l00/hr. if you request the owner), we will send a W&W representative to your home or business, while there we will answer your questions and advise you on the proper plants to install at your location.
Call 607-687-0306 to schedule an appointment.

FAQ

How much will it cost to landscape my yard?
A landscaping project can cost anywhere from $5,000 to over $100,000. When deciding on a budget keep in mind that investing in professional landscaping will greatly add to the value of your home. A general rule of thumb is to spend 10% of your home’s value on landscaping. So, if you have a $200,000 house then a landscaping budget of $20,000 is appropriate.

Factors that Impact Landscaping Costs
- The size of your yard
- The features you desire (i.e. patio, outdoor kitchen, pool, etc.)
- The materials and plants you select
- Where materials are sourced from
- Your location
- Local labor costs
- Site Work

How can I reduce my landscaping costs?
- Phased Installation (i-design, 2-hardscaping, 3-trees, 4-garden beds)
- Reduce plant size
- Vary hardscape materials
- Avoid specialty items (i.e. outdoor kitchen, pool)

Is there a quantityl bulk discount?
W&W works very hard at providing high-quality plant material to you at the lowest price possible. Therefore, we do not offer additional discounts on any of our plants, including those used in design installation projects. “The bitterness of poor quality outlasts the sweetness of a good deal”
~ Ken Williams, S.S.G.

PLANTING INSTRUCTIONS

Figure 1

1) For well drained soils dig the hole twice as wide and the same depth as the rootball. Fill in the bottom 3 inches with a mixture of 1/3 topsoil, 1/3 of your soil, and 1/3 of compost and peat moss (AKA, rule of thirds).

2) For poorly draining soils, plant the tree or shrub higher, generally 1/2-2/3 above soil level (or even higher), depending on how well the soil drains. Add gypsum to the bottom of the hole to help break up the clay and other tightly packing particles. Again using the rule of thirds with your soil moisture, mound the soil up around the rootball. For particularly bad drainage, add a drain channel in the bottom of the hole about 3 ft long filled with gravel.

3) If you purchased a plant in a container, remove the rootball from the pot. Try to rough up and tease the roots loose by moving your hands up and down the root mass. If the root-ass is potbound, use a knife or hand pruner to score the roots vertically 3-5 times, then use your hands to make the roots loose. Don't fear for the plants health. Beleive us, you're doing it a big favor! This will encourage new root growth.

4) Carefully place the rootball into the hole so that the top of the rootball is 1-2 inches above ground level unless you have poor draining soil.

5) Backfill 2/3 of the rootball with blended soil comprised from the rule of thirds formula. For xxx and burlap trees, cut the rope that wraps around the trunk. Remove only the top of the wire basket, leaving the bottom 2/3 on. NEVER REMOVE THE WIRE CAGE COMPLETELY, as the plant needs the cage to help keep the soil packed around the roots. The roots will grow through the wire cage perfectly fine. Loosen the burlap from around the trunk and fold it down around the hole. Remember, make sure the rootball is firmly set in the soil before untying the burlap and rope. For potted plants, simply slide them into the hole and backfill.

6) Continue to fill around the rootball with your blended soil. Tamp the soil firmly and continue to add until is roughly 3 inches from the top of the rootball.

7) Water the plant with Superthrive Rooting hormone mixed in. See package for mixture rate. Avoid fertilizers for the first 3-4 weeks. The mycontize needs that time to activate and colorize the soil.

8) Complete filling with the blended soil, leaving the top 3 inches untampered. Make sure there is no soil, mulch, string, etc. next to the trunk. Do no bring the soil higher than the original rootball. Do no pack any soil around the trunk as this will rot the bark, welcoming insects and diseases. Using topsoil, make a bowl around the trunk to hold water for future waters.

9) Lay mulch 1-3 inches thick using wood chips, bark, decorative stones, etc. Avoid building mulch up around the base of the plant. If built up, the heat produced by the mulch can burn the plant. It can also rot the bark.

10) Guy and stake your trees for the first year. Tree stake kits are offered at the nursery.

11) In 3-4 weeks add your fertilizer. The type of fertilizer you used is dependent on the variety of plant. See package for application rates. Check with a W&W associate for best fertilizer choices.

TIPS, TRICKS AND GENERAL KNOWLEDGE TO HELP YOU THROUGH THE FIRST YEAR

- PROPER WATERING- Proper watering is perhaps the most crucial duty. Newly planted material should be in water well using a using a wetting agent for the first few weeks. Your plants should have ample water during the growth period following blooming. The amount of water depends on the condition in your area, but generally for the first year you should water 2-3 times per week if you haven't received at least 1 inch of rain. Most plans should NOT be soaked or kept soggy. Moist conditions are simple. Don't be concerned with a little wilt during the heat of the day, provided your plants are fresh-looking again the next morning. It is important to let up on watering as much as possibly on frosty mornings approach. This will encourage the new growth to harden off for the winter. Continue to water even as the cold temperates settle in (October and November). For sod, keep thoroughly watered until established, especially on hot and dry days. Grass seed should be protected and kept moist.

- FERTILIZING - Superthrive rooting hormone at the time of planting. Avoid applying fertilizers for the first 3-4 weeks so that the mycontize can activate and colorize the soil. 3-1-2 for an N-P-K value is the golden ratio for most plants. New plantings should have more frequent applications of lesser amounts. DO NOT OVER FERTILIZE. An application of superphosphate in August-September will help harden off your plants for winter as well as help with the flower buds set for the following year.

- DISEASE AND PEST CONTROL - The best way to ward of diseases and pests is to ensure you have a healthy plant. But nature happens. Diseases and pests are inevitable and integral part of gardening. Observe your plants frequently and take preventative action against disease and pests. Applying horticulture oil in early spring suffocates eggs that can otherwise turn into troublesome pests. Use Malahion and Sub-due on your rholes to help ward off strawberry root and Phytophizora. Using sevin on evergreens during spring and summer during hot periods can help prevent the spread of spider mites. Fungoril should be applied to hydrangea to help handle fungus spots that can show up. Keep dogs, deer, and rabbits away from plants using liquire fence products. Always, always, always be responsible and conservative with pesticide application, and follow the manufacturer's instructions.

- Rhododendron, azalea, and andromeda should be planted in a sheltered area away from the wind. Broad leaf rhodes should be out of the morning sun, as it can wilk-pruf the plant too rapidly, and dry it out. Partial shading for all three plants is best, as it is North-Northwest exposure. Screening in winter is preferred.

- Rhododendron, azalea, and andromeda like acid soils with plenty of organic manure. They like it to be moist, but hate having wet feet. Well-drained soil is crucial!

- Place a burlap screen around (not over) our plants for the first year if they are exposed to winter win and for winter sun. This helps prevent dehydration on evergreens, rhodos, and Japanese Maples. Also, spraying "wilt-proof" and watering will help deal with this.

- Dead flower heads should be pinched off. When doing this be careful not to damage the bud which produces the new shoots.

- If it is necessary to prune for shaping up, the cut should be made just about the leaf xxx. Pruning as such can also produce a bushier plant. See our pruning guide at the nursery's intro center for more help and information on roper pruning.

KNOW WHAT YOU PUT DOWN!

Beware! Many bulk mulches on the market today are produced from mixed demolition and CCA treated woods. They are artificially colored and can rob garden soils of valuable nutrients. They can also be harmful to plants.

Make sure the mulch you use is purchased from the people who make it. Only this way can you feel confident and reassured of what you're applying to your beds.
